

PGY1 Pharmacy Residency Program Alumni

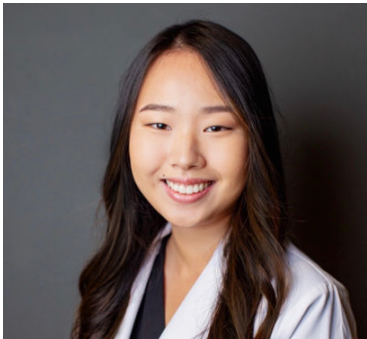

2023-2024

Caleb Johnston

Caleb Johnston is an ambulatory care pharmacist at Neighborhood Family Practice (NFP), a Federally Qualified Health Center (FQHC) in Cleveland, Ohio. He joined NFP in July 2024, bringing a passion for patient care and a strong foundation in managing chronic conditions. Caleb earned his Doctor of Pharmacy degree from Northeast Ohio Medical University (NEOMED) in 2023, followed by a PGY1 residency at AxessPointe Community Health Centers in Akron, Ohio, where he gained extensive experience in ambulatory care. At NFP, Caleb specializes in managing a variety of disease states, including diabetes, COPD, asthma, hepatitis C, and hypertension. He enjoys initiating new clinical services to expand the scope of pharmacists and better serve the patient population. Outside of the clinic, Caleb treasures spending quality time with his family, traveling to new destinations with his wife, and enjoying a good cup of coffee. All of this has been made possible through the grace of God, which has allowed him to combine his personal and professional passions to make a positive impact both in and out of the clinic.

Stellar Chong

Stellar Fackler earned her Doctor of Pharmacy degree from The Ohio State University and is currently a PGY2 ambulatory care pharmacy resident at AxessPointe Community Health Centers and NEOMED, following the completion of her PGY1 residency with the same program. She has a strong passion for managing chronic disease states, particularly diabetes, and is dedicated to patient education and empowerment. Stellar prioritizes building meaningful relationships with both patients and providers to enhance the quality of care. In her free time, she enjoys traveling, exploring new restaurants, and spending quality time with family and friends.

2022-2023

Taylor Craig

Taylor Mannon rejoined Axesspointe as a Pharmacy Manager in 2024 and will manage the pharmacy at Valley Counseling Services (VCS) in Youngstown upon its opening. Prior to this, she worked as a Clinical Pharmacy Specialist in primary care at University Hospitals in Cleveland. She earned her Doctor of Pharmacy degree from Northeast Ohio Medical University (NEOMED) in 2022, then completed the PGY1 residency at Axesspointe/NEOMED where she received a wealth of training and experience with managing chronic disease states in an underserved population. Now, she is working toward her board certification in psychiatric pharmacy with her new role at VCS. Outside of the clinic, she enjoys spending time with her family and friends, playing with her cat, and reading.

Mohenad Rasoul

Mohenad Rasoul, PharmD, BCACP, is the Pharmacy Manager at the Warren site of AxessPointe Pharmacy. He received his Doctor of Pharmacy degree from NEOMED in 2022 and completed PGY1 and PGY2 ambulatory care residencies at AxessPointe Community Health Centers. Dr. Rasoul is dedicated to enhancing patient care by prioritizing empathy and communication. Outside of his professional life, he enjoys staying active through basketball, soccer, and other fitness activities. His commitment to both his patients and personal well-being influences his approach to healthcare and life.

Erica McCoy

Erica McCoy is the clinical pharmacy manager for the World Trade Center Health Program (WTCHP) at Mount Sinai Hospital in New York City, NY. Her site is a clinical center of excellence for 9/11 responders. As the pharmacy manager, she collaborates with NIOSH, the branch of the CDC that delegates the WTCHP, and Express Scripts, the Program's Pharmacy Benefit Manager to improve the pharmacy benefits process for WTC patients. She is also initiating additional pharmacy clinical services for the Mount Sinai WTC patients. Prior to beginning her role at Mount Sinai in 2023, she completed a PGY-1 in Pharmacy Practice Residency and PGY-2 in Ambulatory Care at Northeast Ohio Medical University (NEOMED)/AxessPointe Community Health Center. She is currently the International Phi Lambda Sigma Programming Committee Chair.

2020-2021

Dana (Webb) Dean,

Pharmacy Manager at AxessPointe Community Health Centers

Dana Dean is an experienced pharmacist who brings a wealth of knowledge and dedication to her role as Pharmacy Manager. Currently serving as a floating pharmacist, Dana will assume management of the new pharmacy at our HealthQuarters location upon its opening. She earned her Doctor of Pharmacy degree from Northeast Ohio Medical University (NEOMED) in 2020, followed by a comprehensive PGY1 and PGY2 residency with a focus on ambulatory care at AxessPointe and NEOMED. As a board-certified ambulatory care pharmacist (BCACP), Dana specializes in managing chronic disease states and is particularly passionate about diabetes care. She is committed to providing patient-centered care that supports optimal health outcomes. In her free time, Dana enjoys spending quality moments with her family and dogs. She also loves cooking, boating, and hunting, which help her stay grounded and energized for her work in the community.

Joseph Hostetler,
Clinical Pharmacist at Neighborhood Family Practice

Dr. Hostetler joined Neighborhood Family Practice (NFP) in July 2021 upon completion of our PGY1. Following completion of his undergraduate studies at Kent State University, he went to pharmacy school at NEOMED. He has a professional interest in ambulatory care pharmacy with a focus in diabetes management, COPD, asthma and hypertension. In his free time, Joseph likes to travel around and compete in professional and amateur bowling tournaments.

Nancy Chia,
Clinical Pharmacy Specialist at Diamond Pharmacy Services

Nancy Chia, PharmD, was born and raised in Cameroon, West Africa. Nancy completed her undergraduate studies in biology and chemistry at SUNY Buffalo State College in 2016. 2019-2020

David Hudoba

Dr. Hudoba studied at The Ohio State University and Kent State University before continuing on to Northeast Ohio Medical University where he received a Doctor of Pharmacy degree. Upon completion of our residency, Dr. Hudoba went on to become pharmacy manager with the Community Action Agency of Columbiana County's East Liverpool Pharmacy. Dr. Hudoba was responsible for establishing both clinical and dispensing pharmacy services in this role. This was an impressive job to land straight out of residency! Dr. Hudoba remains affiliated with the Ohio Pharmacists Association and the Ohio College of Clinical Pharmacy, and he plans to receive a Board Certification in the future.

2018-2019

Taylor (Engelhart) Watson

Taylor Watson, PharmD, is an ambulatory care pharmacist at the Cleveland Clinic. Her focus is on reducing readmissions in high risk and heart failure patients. She obtained her Doctor of Pharmacy degree from NEOMED in 2018. She continued her postgraduate training at NEOMED/AxessPointe Community Health Center from June 2018 to June 2019. Dr. Watson takes pride in knowing that she directly impacts patient outcomes and improves her patient's quality of life at one of their most vulnerable times, immediately following discharge. She has worked with administrators to identify areas of opportunity in discharge medication planning, which lead to the retraining of caregivers and improvements in the discharge medication reconciliation process at all Cleveland Clinic hospitals in Ohio. Dr. Watson enjoys bridging the gap between the inpatient and outpatient healthcare teams and reducing medication-related readmissions.

Rebecca (Berg) Munger

Dr. Rebecca Munger is an assistant professor of clinical pharmacy at the University of the Sciences in Philadelphia, Pennsylvania. In addition, she has an ambulatory care practice site at Penn Presbyterian medical center.

She received her Doctor of Pharmacy degree from Northeast Ohio Medical University in 2018. She completed our PGY1 residency from June 2018 to July 2019. She then stayed on with AxessPointe to complete the PGY2 residency in ambulatory care pharmacy.

Dr. Munger is board certified in ambulatory care. In clinic, she works with the primary care providers to manage the chronic disease states of clinic patients. The clinical pharmacy services she provides include diabetes, hypertension, tobacco cessation, and adherence counseling. While at the practice site, Dr. Munger precepts PGY2 pharmacy residents, APPE students, and IPPE students.

At the University of the Sciences, Dr. Munger teaches in multiple courses in the pharmacy curriculum including pulmonary therapeutics, practice skills and professional behavior, and integrated practice.
